A word about the Chair of OCCTOPUS.

Neil Mortensen, Chairman of Occtopus, Professor of Colorectal Surgery in the University of Oxford, Vice President of the Royal College of Surgeons of England & Wales, was appointed to Oxford Radcliffe Hospitals in 1987.

Since then, he has long campaigned for the recognition of colorectal surgery as a speciality and developed several research projects with the University.

We are now delighted to report that Prof Mortensen has been instrumental in creating a permanent Chair for Colorectal Surgery at the University of Oxford with the support of the Pharsalia Charitable Trust. His own position was a personal Chair and would otherwise have discontinued on his retirement.

The Chair will be named the Richard Blackwell Pharsalia Professorship in Colorectal Surgery. Professor Mortensen says: “I am so pleased this Chair will be endowed in perpetuity. Establishing this Chair further raises the profile and credibility of colorectal surgery within Oxford University. It assures Oxford’s reputation as a world leader for advancing surgical innovation to combat colorectal disease.”

ORGANISER OF DRESSAGE U21s UK SHOWS & TRAINING CLINICS.

Personally I have to thank Professor Mortensen for saving my life in 2002. Both he and the Team were absolutely incredible after diagnosing a large malignant tumour. My own GP had not recognised the symptoms over a period of 8 months. After a second opinion and referral I just feel so grateful that treatment began immediately and was successful. C.H.
